The NYT reports on WikiLeaks founder Julian Assange's second day of court hearings in the UK, in which he is fighting extradition to Sweden.

The Guardian reports that the US Air Force has retracted its guidance issued last week banning the families of staff from reading classified material released by WikiLeaks. The Air Force stated that it had not sanctioned the guidance.

Forbes reports that WikiLeaks Julian Assange host a "Live People's Conference" during which he answered questions from group members. The full video can be seen here: WikiLeaks Roundtable: 1st Live People's Conference.
